Adjusted Amount Due

Due to Federal Regulations, the earliest date that Federal Direct Loan funds may be credited to your UCSD student account for the fall term is September 19 provided that all loan disbursement requirements have been meet.

Federal Direct Loan funds will credit student accounts on September 19 if all loan disbursement requirements have been meet. In order to assist students and families with the amount that will be due following the Direct Loan disbursements, the TritonLink Billing pages have been changed to show a Direct Loan amount and an “Adjusted Amount Due.”

For your convenience, these Billing pages have projected your “Adjusted Amount Due” taking Pending Direct Loan disbursement amount(s) into consideration. Each Direct Loan is listed with an amount to indicate if it is ready for disbursement on September 19. This is the earliest date when Direct Loan funds may be credited to your student account for the term. September 19 is before the deadline to pay registration fees without late fee charges.

If your Direct Loan is NOT ready for disbursement, you will find additional information about the status of your loan(s).

- If “Incomplete” is listed rather than an amount, then there are actions that must be completed by the borrower before the loan can be disbursed.
- If “FAO Processing” is listed rather than an amount, it means the Financial Aid Office (FAO) is working to set up your loan for processing with the Department of Education.

In order to ensure that your Direct Loan funds remain ready to disburse on September 19, you should ensure that you continue to meet all financial aid disbursement requirements.

For Direct Loans, this includes being enrolled in at least 6 units without any payment holds on your account. Please read the other disbursement requirements to ensure that your funds will be ready at the start of the term. You should also check My Tritonlink to ensure you have met all other requirements.
